1. U - - pon the cross ex - - ten - - ded, See, world, thy Lord su - - spen - - ded,
2. Come hi - - ther now and pon - - der, 'Twill fill thy soul with won - - der,
3. Who is it that hath bruised Thee? Who hath so sore a - - bused Thee
4. I caused Thy grief and sigh - - ing By e - - vils mul - ti - - ply - - ing
5. 'Tis I who should be smit - - ten My doom should here be writ - - ten:

Thy Sa - - vior yields His breath. The Prince of Life from hea - - - ven
Blood streams from e - - - very pore. Through grief whose depth none know - - - eth,
And caused Thee all Thy woe? While we must make con - - fes - - - sion
As count - - less as the sands. I caused the woes un - - num - - - bered
Bound hand and foot in hell. The fet - - - ters and the scour - - - ging,

Him - self hath free - - ly gi - - - ven To shame and blows and bit - - ter death.
From His great heart there flo - - - weth Sigh af - - - ter sigh of an - - guish o'er.
Of sin and dire trans - - - gres - - - sion, Thou deeds of e - - - vil dost not know.
With which Thy soul is cum - - - bered, Thy sor - - rows raised by wi - - - cked hands.
The floods a - - round Thee sur - - - ging, 'Tis I who have de - - - served them well.

6. The load Thou takest on Thee,
That pressed so sorely on me,
it crushed me to the ground.
The cross for me enduring,
The crown for me securing,
My healing in Thy wounds is found.

7. A crown of thorns Thou wearest,
My shame and scorn Thou bearest,
That I might ransom'd be.
My Bondsman, ever willing,
My place with patience filling,
From sin and guilt hast made me free.

8. Into death's jaws Thou springest,
Deliv'rance to me bringest
From such a monster dire.
My death away Thou takest,
Thy grave its grave Thou makest;
Of love, O unexampled fire!

9. Thy cords of love, my Savior,
Bind me to Thee forever,
I am no longer mine.
To Thee I gladly tender
All that my life can render
And all I have to Thee resign.

10. Not much can I be giving
In this poor life I'm living,
But one thing do I say:
Thy death and sorrows ever,
Till soul from body sever,
My heart remember shall for aye.

11. Thy cross I'll place before me,
Its saving power be o'er me,
Wherever I may be;
Thine innocence revealing,
Thy love and mercy sealing,
The pledge of truth and constancy.

12. How God at our transgression
To anger gives expression
How loud His thunder rolls,
How fearfully He smiteth,
How sorely He requiteth,-
All this Thy sufferings teach my soul.

13. From them shall I be learning,
How I may be adorning,
My heart with quietness,
And how I still should love them
Whose malice aye doth move them
To grieve me by their wickedness.

14. When evil men revile me,
With wicked tongues defile me,
I'll curb my vengeful heart.
The unjust wrong I'll suffer,
Unto my neighbor offer
Forgiveness for each bitter smart.

15. I'll on the cross unite me
To Thee, what doth delight me
I'll there renounce for aye.
Whate'er Thy Spirit's grieving,
There I'll for aye be leaving,
As much as in my strength doth lay.

16. Thy groaning and thy sighing,
Thy bitter tears and dying,
With which Thou wast oppress'd,-
They shall, when life is ending,
Be guiding and attending
My way to Thine eternal rest.
